

THE PINE POINTER

Issue #6, Summer 2025

Hello Everyone,

Welcome to the sixth issue of The Pine Pointer, our newsletter dedicated to keeping our neighbouring communities informed about our activities and plans for Pine Point.

This issue reflects our focus on continuing to foster strong, constructive relationships with our local communities.

In early April, we hosted a successful three day technical workshop in Yellowknife. Several people joined us in person and online for an in-depth review of the different aspects of the proposed Pine Point mine development project. We covered everything from health and safety, environmental aspects, proposed operational approach, to mine closure and reclamation. We did deep dives on water management, water quality, hydrology, hydrogeology, and aquatic risk assessments. We dug into soil, vegetation, and archeology, as well as wildlife habitats. And we examined Indigenous Knowledge, culture, and well-being, along with other social and cultural factors, among other things. It included detailed approaches presented over three days.

This generated invaluable feedback from regulators and Indigenous and local community leaders on our plans going forward. We know that community support is critical and look forward to incorporating feedback where possible into our plans as we move forward.

That's why we are pleased to launch some key updates to our website. You can now submit your comments and feedback to us in a variety of ways. If you have a grievance, you can fill out a form that gets submitted directly to our community relations team. If you want to share a story about Pine Point's history, we have a portal for that. And if you're looking for sponsorship, there's a form for that. Access all three by going to www.pinepointmining.com, and clicking the Community button on the main menu.

Thank you, as always, for your continued trust in and partnership with us. Please stay in touch, and do not hesitate to contact us at anytime at info@pinepointmining.com. Your opinions and insights are very welcome.

You can also sign up for our email updates at pinepointmining.com, as well as follow us on Facebook and LinkedIn at Pine Point Mining Limited.

Very Best Regards,

A successful technical workshop in Yellowknife

A big thank you to everyone who joined us for our first technical workshop. Held in Yellowknife in early April, representatives of regulatory bodies and local Indigenous communities joined us in person and online for four days to review and discuss key aspects of the Pine Point Mining Project.

Discipline leads from the Developer's Assessment Report (DAR) team—including air quality, health, environment, noise, reclamation, and water, among others—gave detailed presentations about their area of focus, including key assumptions, methodologies, and preliminary results.

Key goals were not just to give a technical update, but to gather feedback on our assumptions and methods, so that feedback can be incorporated where possible.

We appreciate each and every comment. These contributions are essential to the ongoing development of a robust and transparent environmental assessment process. Thank you for your contributions, we could not do it without you.

You can learn more about the Developer's Assessment Report, which we expect to submit early next year, on page 2.

It's now much easier to send us a comment, make a sponsorship request, or share a memory about the historic Pine Point Mine. We recently refreshed our website, and added a series of forms aimed at fostering communication with the right people at the company.

If you want to:

- make a suggestion or share a grievance: navigate to the Community menu and click Community feedback form in the drop-down menu. This is where you can provide feedback on the project itself and/or share a concern about a specific issue. You can submit anonymously or include your name and contact information if you'd like a reply. A completed form will be submitted directly to our community relations team.
- Request sponsorship support: navigate to the Community menu and click Community sponsorship request in the drop-down menu. We support a variety of projects, but prioritize projects related to community development, education, well-being, sports, and culture. A completed form will be submitted directly to our community relations and communications teams.
- Share a memory: navigate to the Community menu and click Tell us your story in the drop-down menu. You'll be able to tell your story and submit photos. A completed form will be submitted directly to our community relations and communications teams.

We look forward to your submissions! When you connect with us, you are helping us understand your needs and concerns, ensure our operations align with community values, and to build a mutually respectful relationship.

WHAT'S UP AT SITE

As we wrote about in our last Pine Pointer, while we closed the exploration camp December, we are still working hard on moving the project forward. In that issue, we reported on how we were focused on preparing the feasibility study, a critical step in determining the technical and economic viability of a mining project.

This comprehensive analysis and rigorous evaluation of all the project's aspects will provide crucial insights into the project's potential, guiding future development decisions. We are on track for completing this as soon as possible this year.

Another report that we are working on is the Developer's Assessment Report (DAR). A DAR evaluates the potential environmental, social, and economic impacts of a proposed mining project, outlining how to mitigate negative impacts and how to maximize potential benefits.

It's partly why we have been focused on connecting with our local communities to host townhalls and foster constructive relationships that will provide a strong foundation for the DAR.

We hope to submit the DAR within the next year. It will also mark the formal start of the Environmental Assessment process. Our ultimate objective is to receive all our relevant operating permits by 2028.
